EOLE, A BREATH OF FRESH AIR FOR YOUR CREATIVITY

Once again, Pochet du Courval has broken the boundaries of glass-making with its state of the art bottle, Eole. This totally new process offers endless creative possibilities for the internal design of the glass distribution inside the bottle.

This new technology opens up an alternative dimension, allowing movement and shape to create stunning new visual effects. When combined with surface effects like engraving, textures, decoration ...Eole will offer further inspiration for unique and personal fragrance and cosmetics bottles.

This exciting development from the R & D team at Pochet, once again harnesses industrial know-how and creative excellence to deliver a blank canvas for the creativity of fragrance and cosmetic brands globally."
